And What Have You

By BOB CRAIC

After two easy wins it is not surprising that we have started hearing a number of Piper fans complaining about the need for a tougher schedule. And we would agree that the team would benefit more from games that taxed their ability more than the past two have.

But there is a world of difference between wanting a tougher schedule and having one. Coach Youngblood can tell you right quick what a problem scheduling has become.

One of the best examples of this is the matching of Haskell and Anson in a non-district game. You can bet that if either one of them could have found anybody else to play they would have liked it better than meeting each other twice in one season.

One of the big problems in scheduling is how do you always know who will be strong when the schedules are made for two years in advance. Add to this the fact that if you hold out for a tougher team you might get left holding the bag and not be able to find anyone to play.

Adding to the problem this year is the increased number of teams in each district which eliminates the number of non-district games that a team can play. The 3A district to the west of us, which includes Sweetwater, Colorado City and Snyder, is an 11-team district and plays 10 conference games. When you start drawing a circle around Hamlin you have to go a long way just to find teams to play, much less strong ones.

Over the years we have opened with Rotan and they have had some real fine ball clubs and usually offer strong competition. The past year or two they have been down but it is doubtful if you could drop them and come up with a better choice over the long run.

Clyde is a 2A club and should have a better program than they have shown the past couple of years, but again it is hard to know two or three years in advance.

The first year that we played Nolan in Fort Worth Coach Youngblood mailed out 300 postcards seeking a game on that date and failed to get an answer to any of them.

One small advantage of a game like the one here Saturday night is that a lot of the younger boys got to play and you never know but what later in the season you are going to need them because of injuries. And then the experience that they gained will come in handy.

Last week when we mentioned Bill Harbert's remodeled store and how nice it looked we failed to also give credit to the man who owns the building and did the remodeling.

Mr. Frank Bayouth owns that building and several others on that side of the street and has done much during the past few years to improve the looks of Hamlin.

Even though Mr. Bayouth no longer lives in Hamlin he still shows his interest in our future by investing his money here and helping Hamlin grow.

For many people here it will soon be time to start thinking about sending Christmas gifts to GIs in Vietnam and Charles Reed, manager of Winn's, brought in the following clipping that gives some hints on what to send.

The AP story says that a survey reveals that the GIs want insect repellent, puzzles, gum and foam insoles among other things. Also on the list are plastic containers for soft drinks, Q-tips, instant breakfast drinks and wallet-size calendars. In the picture line they want stateside landscapes.

We suspect that it might just be possible to obtain some or all of these items at the local 5&10.

Anyone wishing to donate cattle may contact Bill or Pat Feagan at SP 4-2466 or SP 4-1616 and they will be glad to pick up the animals. Also, those wishing to give money may contact the Feagans. A list of donors from this area will be published as the contributions come in.

Feagan said "Hamlin has always been a big supporter of this sale and we hope that you give as always to one of the most worthwhile organizations in this area. The West Texas Rehabilitation Center belongs to you and me — let's help support it. Call today."

Round-up officials are pleased to have the interest of the Hamlin area people, those who make contributions and those who are working on transportation of the animals.

LETTER TO EDITOR Mrs. David Wade Expresses Thanks

Dear Editor:

It is hard for me to express my feeling of appreciation for the officers and committees who worked so hard on Homecoming. But, I want everyone to know that if it were not for the officers and committees which helped me this year, we could not have had such a nice Homecoming.

I want to thank everyone who took a part in the parade, and made it the best we have ever had. I know a lot of work goes into these beautiful floats and it is really appreciated.

Thank you again, Mrs. David Wade (retiring Ex-student Association president)

Pipers to Invade Lobo Den Friday

The Pipers will make their first road trip of the season Friday night when they travel to Cisco to take on the Lobos. The Lobos will be going for their first win of the season as they have lost their first two games to Class A powers, Ranger and Albany.

The Lobos lost a 21-12 decision to Albany last week.

Coach Joe Youngblood told the Booster Club Monday night that he expects Cisco to be much stronger than either of the two teams the Pipers have met this season.

He also reported that Sammy Bond suffered a dislocated shoulder in the game Saturday night and would be out for the season. Also injured was Duane Stewart who broke a finger but is expected to have the cast off in a couple of weeks and is working now.

Youngblood said he felt the team's pass defense was improving each week and was happy with the progress of the boys.

Scouting reports indicate that Cisco has a strong running game and does not depend very much on their passing game. Their strongest plays are the quick-pitch and the dive with halfback Randy Honea, 170-pounds, being a strong runner.

Rated their top defensive boy is Linebacker Jack Hailey who weighs in at 175 pounds. The Lobos operate from a five, three, three defense similar to the one used by the Pipers.

The Lobos use an offense similar to the one used by Clyde and also operate from the "I" part of the time.

Hamlin FFA Receives Gold Emblem Award

The Hamlin FFA Chapter was recognized as a Gold Emblem Chapter for the seventh consecutive year at a Stamford District FFA meeting last Tuesday in Stamford. The Gold Emblem or Superior Chapter rating is the highest award the Texas Association can confer upon a chapter. This award is based on the chapter's participation and record of accomplishment in carrying out the state program of work.

Chapter members attending the meeting were Gil Lain, Area II Vice-President; Mike Brown, Stamford District reporter; and Leldon Clifton and Price Bryant, voting delegates. Before the business session of the district FFA meeting, FFA members and advisors were given a safety lecture and demonstration on gas welding. Mr. Charles Yates, welding specialist with the Texas Education Agency, was in charge of this part of the program.

Booster Club to Start Four Year Scholarship

The Pied Piper Booster Club voted Monday to start an $800 scholarship program for a boy who has participated in school sponsored competitive sports for at least two years.

The scholarship will be for $100 a semester for eight semesters payable at the start of each semester as long as the recipient maintains his college work.

The winner of the scholarship must have maintained at least a B average during his four years in high school and the selection will be made on the basis of need.

The selection will be made by a committee of three members of the Booster Club appointed by the president and will be assisted by the high school principal.

Club President Raymond Scifres pointed out to the members that with one boy added to the program each year it will be four years before the club will need to come up with the full $800 and that he felt that it would be no problem to raise the money. He reported that the club has nearly $700 now and that he expects to add several more members this year.

The scholarship will be awarded at graduation ceremonies at which time the winner will be presented a certificate and will be presented a check for $100 when he enters school.

In other action the club voted to change the term of its officers from the end of the football season to the first meeting of the fall. It was explained that it would be easier to get the season activities underway with the carry-over officers and then elect new ones at the first meeting.

The members were shown the film of the Clyde game by Coach Joe Youngblood and heard a scouting report on Cisco by Coach Robert Brandon.

YOUNG FAN VISITS WITH BAND -- Missy Hodges, 11 1/2-year old daughter of Mrs. Sam Mack Hodges, left, of Dallas, visits with Drum Major Joey Duncan and other band members and points to the action on the field of the Clyde-Hamlin game Saturday night. AUSTIN. — "Unity" was the unofficial theme of both Democratic and Republican state conventions, and each party expects to carry that concept on to a victory on election day, November 5.

Democrats at Austin passed the torch to Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, their nominee for governor, and heard cries to support the party's ticket from courthouse to White House. Ben Barnes, the youthful lieutenant governor nominee, and Smith literally joined hands to dispel all rumors that they would not work together.

State Democrats also adopted a 16-point platform, emphasizing need for law and order and improvements to education at all levels. They elected both liberals and conservatives to the new State Democratic Committee (with only 13 holdover members) headed by Dr. Elmer C. Baum of Austin as chairman, Mrs. Ralph O'Connor of Houston as vice-chairman and H. H. Coffield of Rockdale as secretary.

Gov. John Connally broke the ice on the national ticket front by endorsing Hubert H. Humphrey and urging Democrats to band together in his behalf. And the convention was read a telegram from Pres. Lyndon B. Johnson saying Humphrey is his man.

In Fort Worth, Republicans, full of optimism over Richard Nixon's chances to sweep the state and nation and hopeful of statehouse gains as well, heard go-go speeches.

GOP leader Jack Cox of Austin told fellow Republicans, "If you are more liberal than I am, or if one of us is more conservative than the other, it does not mean one of us should be read out of the Republican Party." Shouts of affirmation went up through the hall, and every shade of Republicanism — ultra-conservative through progressive — decided to devote every effort to a Nixon-Agnew campaign.

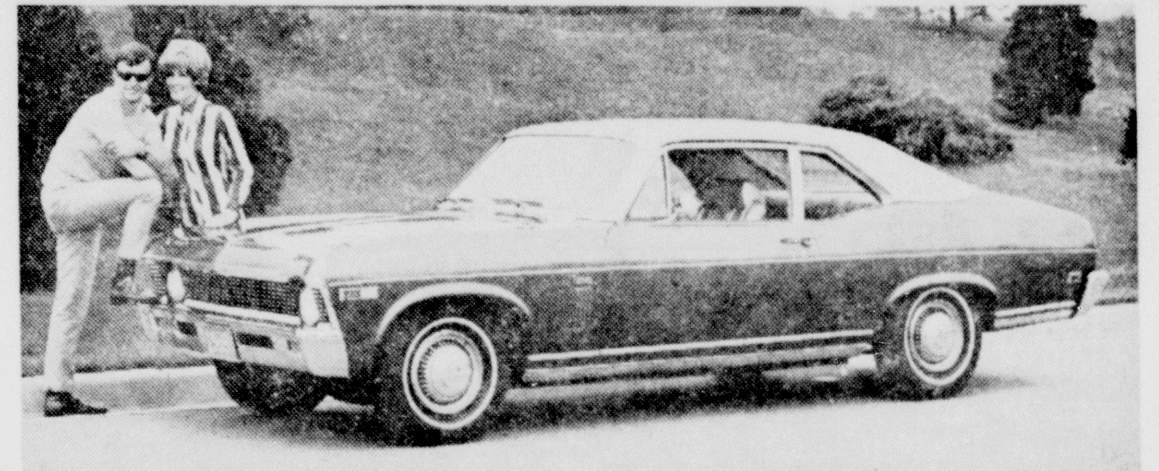

Gov. Spiro Agnew was the hit of the convention, there, telling the 2,500 what they wanted to hear, and telling it well. It was a warm first meeting between the vice-presidential nominee and his fellow party members of this state.

Chevrolet introduces 1969.

Caprice. Match this, you other 69's!

There is no joy in the land of our competitors today. But let us ask you this. Should we have made Caprice shorter instead of the longest Chevrolet ever built? Or adorned it with flashy nicknacks to make it look less expensive? Just because competition doesn't, should we not have offered you washers to clean your headlights, new variable-ratio power steering, liquid tire chain you can apply to your rear wheels at the touch of a button?

Should we have given you less power, instead of the largest standard V8 in its field?

Some people think so. Our competitors.

And just look how it all hangs together. No gingerbread anywhere.

We've improved the interior, too. Quieted the ride. Made the Astro Ventilation ventilate better.

The power range is very impressive.

Standard V8 is 210 hp. SS engines available up to 325 hp. For added SS appeal: sport striping; power disc brakes; wide oval, road-hugging tires.

Your Chevrolet dealer offers this advice:

Go on, you other sportsters. Gnash your gears and look tough.

Maybe it will help.

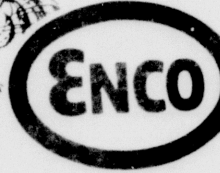

Putting you first, keeps us first.

Comment On Sports

Washington, D.C.--The World Series between Detroit and St. Louis brings back memories of 1934 and may be a surprise to some National League fans--who assume their clubs are generally stronger than those in the American League.

At the risk of having this piece appear in some papers after the Series has been decided, the writer's prediction as to the outcome are nevertheless herein summarized:

The key to the outcome is Detroit pitching. Every fan knows the Cardinals have great pitching, from Gibson and Briles down. But the Cards won early and didn't look as strong in September as they appeared in mid-year.

The Tigers were plagued with pitching fears all year but toward the end their left-handed ace, Mickey Lolich, began to pick up where he had left off last season. Fans know about Denny McLain. In addition, last year's twenty-game winner, Earl Wilson, began to look strong in August and September, for the Bengals.

On form, one would have to choose St. Louis on pitching and give the edge to Gibson in his expected duels with McLain. The Tiger chance, then, is in the number two and three pitchers--Lolich and Wilson. If these two come through with shut-out performances or something close, Detroit pitching will surprise a lot of people.

Detroit has enough punch at bat to win if they get better overall pitching. And that is their chance. Remembering how Baltimore stunned Los Angeles by taking four straight from a team which boasted a Sandy Koufax and a Don Drysdale on its pitching staff a few years ago, one has to think carefully before writing off the American League entry this year.

The last two All-Star games are a bit deceiving. The National continues to win, but the pitching on both sides has been excellent, for two years. St. Louis will have to be hot to tame the Tigers and the writer has a hunch the Bengals might just win the thing--and only Bob Gibson is likely to thwart them.

Neinda Philosopher Wonders How Long It Will Be Before Man Clutters Outer Space With Junk

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route One finds a new problem to worry about this week.

Dear editor:

The main purpose of exploring outer space, I've been arguing, is to get man's mind off his earth problems, which are getting too big for him to handle anyway.

But the trouble is that man has a knack of carrying his problems with him.

For example, I read in a fat Sunday issue of The Abilene Reporter-News last night which I'd been saving to use as a boot in a tractor tire — a friend from town told me just the other day I ought to get a new tractor, the one I'm using is a disgrace to the farming profession, but I am unmoved by the suggestion, that tractor may look respectable, but it's in better financial shape than the U. S. Government, the British Empire, the Republic of France, the Soviet Union, or any other debt-ridden government you can name — at any rate, to pick up the sentence again, I read up to now there have been 3,344 objects lofted into space by man.

Of this number, 1,292 are still orbiting, some of them for as long as 10 years, with 343 considered satellite payloads and 949 as space junk.

You see what I'm getting at? Already, man has 949 pieces of junk sailing around in space and the exploration is still in its early days.

Ten years from now there may be thousands of satellites and their booster engines and other junk sailing around out there, cluttering up space like automobiles and junk yards in Abilene.

Then of course there will be a move on to do something about the outer space traffic snarl-up, and garden clubs will be called on to plant shrubbery around the orbiting junk yards, an undertaking I will be glad to let the women tackle.

It will be interesting to see how far out man can clutter up space. While I understand space is limitless, still you've got to remember man has a limitless capacity for litter, so the contest could go on forever.

But I'm not really a pessimist. Man does learn. You won't catch him polluting any rivers or lakes in outer space.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Rural Features of 1968 Housing Act Outlined by State Director

L. J. Cappleman, Texas State Director of the Farmers Home Administration, said today he has been notified by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman of the rural housing and rural community planning features of the newly enacted 1968 Housing Act.

The Act was signed into law on August 1 by President Johnson.

Secretary Freeman's statement pointed out the new housing program is part of the President's drive to remove all substandard housing in the nation within a decade, including the 3 million substandard houses that exist today in rural America.

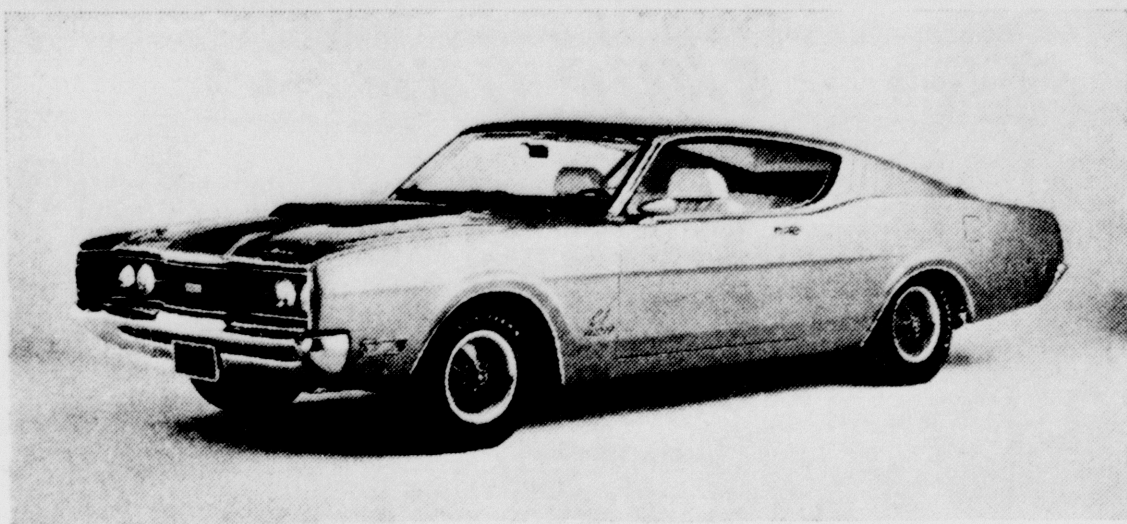

Mr. Freeman announced that benefits of the new

Housing and Urban Development Act will be channeled into Texas rural areas through the 138 local county offices of the Farmers Home Administration, and through the rural system of Technical Action Panels.

Students Drawing Social Security Need to Review Status, -- Tuley

"Now that 'back to school' time is here students receiving social security benefits should review their individual situations," R. R. Tuley, Jr., manager of the Abilene Social Security Office announced today.

"A child who is receiving social security benefits on the record of a retired, deceased or disabled parent may receive benefits after age 18 and up to age 22 if he is a full-time student, or if he resumes his education after a summer vacation. This last point is what we are emphasizing now," Tuley continued.

"Plans have a way of changing over the summer," Tuley explained. "A student might decide not to go back to school at all — many girls will marry and a boy may have found a job he likes and wants to keep. Or the student might decide to go back to school

DETENTE IS WISHFUL THINKING

The leaders and the people of this nation and of the entire free world want peace. But when we speak of peace we mean peace with honor and dignity. By peace we mean a lack of hostility and a condition in which each nation respects and honors the rights of fellow nations. But "peace" means something else to communism.

In spite of the many times our leaders have received diplomatic setbacks and propaganda insults at the hands of the Reds, efforts are still being made to reach an accommodation with the communists.

This is true in spite of the renewed communist harassment of Berlin, the Red-inspired and supported unrest in the Middle East, the known communist atrocities in Africa and elsewhere, not to mention the Viet Nam War, in which more than 25,000 young Americans have lost their lives.

The desire to end strife and bloodshed is so great in the hearts and minds of our leaders that they tend to overlook facts and to be optimistic when there is no real cause for belief that peace might be at hand.

They say, "If only a series of agreements could be reached to ease world tensions, the longing for peace might be satisfied."

Then, they point out, the nations of the free world could turn their attention to solving their many pressing domestic problems.

Grasping at any straws in the international and political wind, our leaders hear Moscow claim a desire for peace and coexistence. Based upon American definitions, it sounds good. This could be an extremely grave error, for the communists do not mean the same thing when they speak of peace that we do. We must judge such statements in the light of past communist behavior and definitions the Reds use for some of our very common English words.

What do the Reds mean by "accommodation" and "agreement"? Do the Reds make agreements in the interest of peace and order in the world, or in the interest of furthering communist aims? What is their past record with regard to treaties and agreements?

"Promises are like pie crusts, made to be broken," said Nikolai Lenin, the father of Russian communism.

Dictator Joseph Stalin frankly said of diplomacy: "Good words are a mask for the concealment of bad deeds. Sincere diplomacy is no more possible than dry water or iron wood."

Of course, there are those who claim that communism has completely changed since the day of Lenin and Stalin. They say the Reds, faced with the realities of nuclear development, are ready to make sincere agreements.

But mark this down, even today the communist leaders still think of agreements with the West—sometimes termed peaceful coexistence—in terms of how they will further communist aims and objectives.

To understand their attitude, we need to realize that the communist definition of peace is that time when there is no opposition to communism—in other words, when communism has achieved its objective of dominating the entire world.

Peaceful coexistence, then, would mean surrender by the West to the on-rushing hordes of communism so that there would be no opposition facing the communists.

Only a few years ago a Russian theorist stated the Reds' definition of peace achieved through accommodation, agreement, and coexistence, as providing "a more favorable breeding ground for the growth and solidarity of revolutionary forces, and for the development of their expression."

This is but another way of saying that when it seems more advantageous to the communists to talk in peaceful terms, there will be what is called a detente with the West; but when the time comes that the Kremlin leaders believe saber rattling and a tough stance will be more advantageous to them, that is what they plan to do.

Having only a materialistic view, and no Christian code of morals to guide their behavior, Russian promises and agreements are binding only so long as they are considered advantageous.

What does the record show? A committee from the American Bar Association some years ago reported that in 25 years there had been 3,400 meetings with the communists, out of which had come 52 major agreements—and that the Soviet Union up to that time had broken 50 of them.

What a sad record upon which to hope to build peace or stability of future agreements!

The world is witnessing once more the full play of communist double-talk as an effort is made to bring to an end the war in Viet Nam. The Reds say, in effect: "What we have is ours, what you have is negotiable."

It is the same story of the endless effort to impose the communist will on all free people everywhere, by any means, whether in our opinion it is fair, upright, or moral. This relentless and never ending effort has paid off handsomely for the communists in the years since World War II. And it will continue to pay them as long as noncommunist nations, including the United States, refuse to accept the communist threat for the very serious danger that it is. It will continue to pay the Reds as long as they can bluff their way to appeasement and obtain concessions without military action.

There should be no mistaking the communist plans and intentions. We have been warned time and again. Yet so great is our desire for peace that we are almost willing to sell out our principles in the hope the Reds will accept our version of peaceful coexistence.

No hope could be more futile. To maintain this hope is to close one's eyes to reality. It is not for peaceful purposes that the Reds send their agents with each cultural group visiting the United States. It is not for peaceful purposes that they seek to undermine the internal tranquility of our nation and help foment racial and student riots.

It is not for peaceful purposes that they continue to send military aid and arms to North Viet Nam.

It is not for peaceful purposes that guerrilla warfare is fomented in Latin America.

It is not for peaceful purposes that the Soviet Union keeps on expanding its military machine.

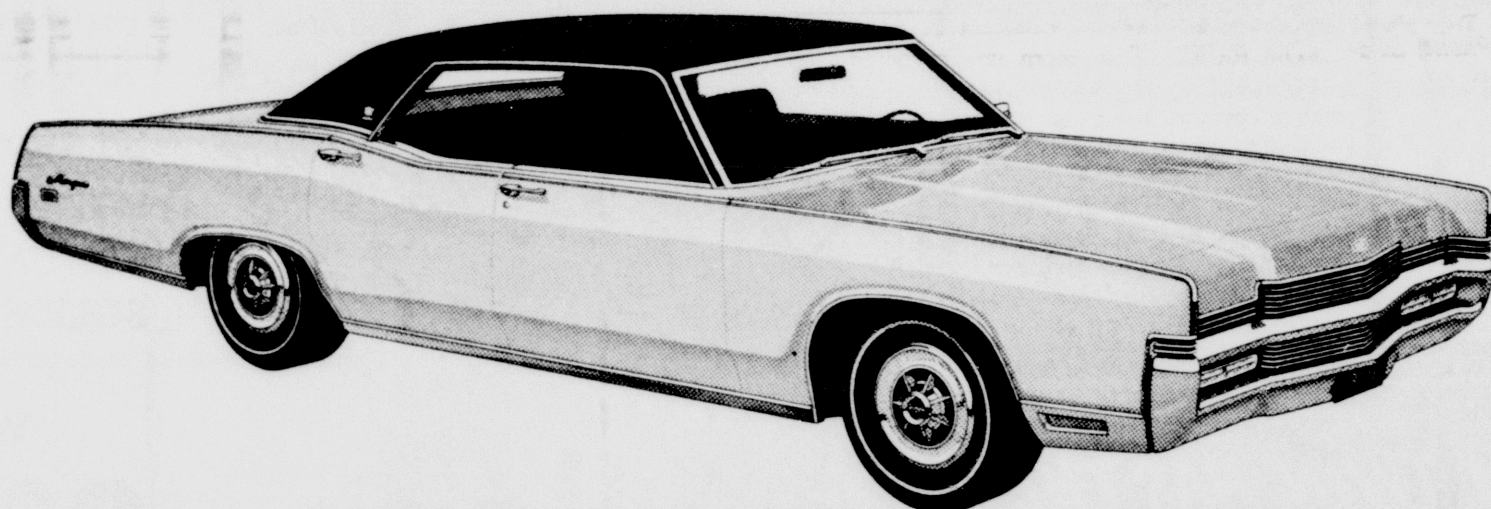

The only influence recognized by the communists is superior force in the hands of an adversary. To maintain superior force for defense is our only hope.

AT NHS COFFEE -- Mrs. V. M. Wallace is greeted by National Honor Society President Mike Young and Jerry Elliott, vice president, at the coffee held Saturday morning honoring former members. The coffee was held from 8:30 to 9:30 a.m. in the teacher's lounge of the new high school.

Center To Serve In Area Vegetable Research

College Station -- The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station has set up research activities in the Munday, Texas, area to serve expanding vegetable production in this Rolling Plains region.

This announcement was made by Dr. H. O. Kunkel, acting director of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, and Dean of Agriculture, Texas A&M University. Dr. Kunkel explained that plans are under way for the establishment of the Rolling Plains Vegetable Research Center in Munday.

"Opportunities are excellent for a vegetable industry that will bring in an additional $10 million annually here. Vegetable production is one of the major agricultural industries in this area, and the location is important to the over-all production within the State since it links a continuous operation during harvest seasons with the South Texas and the High Plains Sections," stated Kunkel.

The full research program will begin in September 1969 at which time laboratory facilities, offices and a green house will be constructed by the Experiment Station estimated to cost $138,000.00. Operating expenses in excess of $260,000.00 biennially, have been set up in the Station's budget and shall be presented to the legislature for approval.

Dr. Mack Fuqua, formerly with the Horticulture Section of Texas A&M University's Soil and Crop Sciences Department has been at the University's Agricultural and Research Extension Center at Lubbock since last October studying problems and opportunities for the vegetable industry.

Fuqua had 15 acres of seedless watermelons this past summer near Munday and will expand the research in vegetables during 1968-69.

The Munday Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture will furnish land for the building, 40 to 60 acres of irrigated land and other test plots necessary to the research program. The Munday area offers almost every known soil type to be found and has, during the past 15 years, become well established as a primary vegetable-producing area.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Wallace, visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Criswell in Ranger, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Criswell at Lake Leon Lodge, her father, D. C. Galloway at Ranger Rest Home, and her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Galloway of Carbon.

WHICH TWIN HAS THE ALL ELECTRIC HOME?

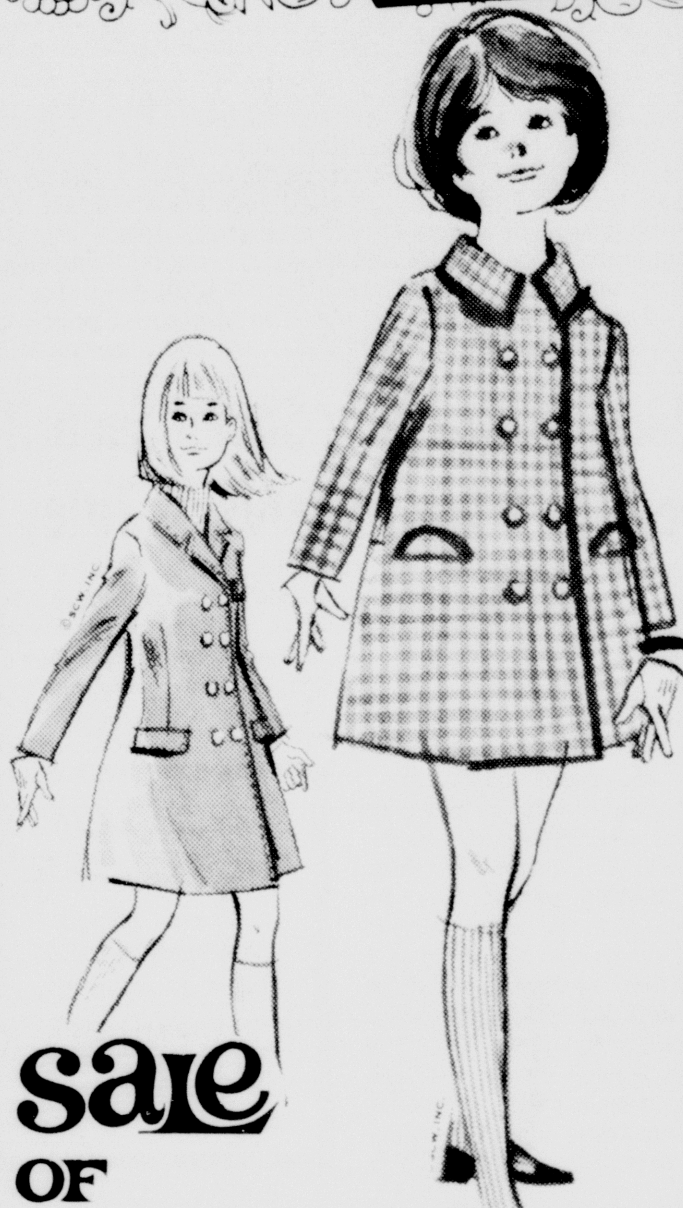

Electric cooking is so clean and cool. Electric heat is free of smoke and soot. Electric appliances are timesavers allowing more leisure, greater freedom. An all electric home is so clean and efficient. Thus, it is obvious that the young housewife on the left has an all electric home.

However, appearances can sometimes be deceiving. The other young housewife also has an all electric home but she's been out fighting a grassfire.

FROM THE FILES ...

51 YEARS AGO

(Files for fifty years ago missing) (September 28, 1917)

Hamlin people have at last become awake to their duty. They have enrolled in the Red Cross work with a spirit of enthusiasm that is seldom seen. In one week over 600 members had enrolled and paid up. There are now over 700 signatures and over $600 paid. The treasurer, reports that about 100 have not brought in their fees yet. This will be forthcoming in due time, and it goes without doubt that Hamlin will have a Chapter and the Red Cross Work in hand in the quickest time on record.

It will do no good for anyone to get in too big a rush while going down Central Avenue. Wednesday, two drummers got in a big hurry and about eleven o'clock pulled out for Sweetwater "in High." They astonished the natives down the street, killed a dog at First National Bank, barely missed a little girl. This was too strong. City Marshal Owen and Deputy Sheriff Tomlinson boarded a Ford and that meant the jig was up for the speeders. They were soon overtaken, relieved of $12.70. That's the way to do it. Who's next?

The Senate of Texas, sitting as a high court of impeachment Saturday afternoon sustained 10 of the 21 articles of impeachment against Gov. Jas. E. Ferguson. Eleven of the charges were not sustained through failure of the roll calls to disclose two-thirds of the senators voting to sustain.

The heaviest vote to sustain was 27 to 4 on three charges, these being articles one, 11 and 12, referring respectively to the payment of a note for $5,600 out of the Canyon City normal building fund to the loan of $156,500 in currency to the governor from undisclosed persons and his failure to account for the same, and to the payment of $3,000 belonging to the adjutant general's department to construction of buildings for the Canyon City normal school.

The heaviest vote in the governors favor was article 21, which referred to the action of the governor in regard to the office of commissioner of labor held by C. W. Woodman, whose appointment was not confirmed by the senate. On this article the vote was 2 ayes and 27 noes on the question, shall the article be sustained.

Tuesday one of those forlorn sad, white top wagons passed through our city and this inscription was plainly written on the wagon bed:

In God we trusted,
In Coke we busted,
We're on our way to Wilbarger.

These scenes are enough to make any human heart with a speck of sympathy feel sad. Many hundreds of people have been to hunt sections where nature has been more kind. Let us remember that this has been an unprecedented year, that several fine crop years preceded this bad year, that more good crops will visit this country, that also more dry years will come upon us, that it stands West Texas people in hand to guard their products more carefully in good years and also their money. West Texas will cope again, but of course there are many who can't wait and see.

25 YEARS AGO

(September 24, 1943)

Wonderful progress has been made this week in the purchase of Third War Loan Bonds.

Hamlin's quote of $286,500 looks almost staggering, but according to bank deposits, it is the amount that this community is due to buy.

Up to Wednesday night, $187,000 cash money had been passed in Hamlin in this September drive on the quota.

In a hard fought thriller here last Friday night, the Roby eleven nosed by the Pipers with a 6-0 victory opening the fall season for both teams.

The two teams, evenly matched, fought for the advantage throughout the first three quarters and until the last three minutes of play. Roby crept up with a pass to score the lone tally in the final period. The kick failed.

Hamlin's main threat came in the first quarter when they penetrated to the 12, but failed to make good and Roby took over.

Sgt. Alfred Strane and the Camp Barkeley scrap metal salvage crew were honored Tuesday night at the Moore Lake with a fried chicken supper.

The womans Society of Christian Service and the Wesleyan Service Guild of the Methodist church sponsored the occasion.

After supper, Sgt. Strane gave an interesting talk relative to the collection and disposal of metal scrap. An interesting feature was the introduction of each soldier, his home state and sidelights on his work and personality. Twelve states were represented in the group.

Sgt. Strane reports more than 900 long tons of iron already from Jones County and it will likely be 1200 tons when finished.

Lieutenant J. C. Turner has sent several letters to his wife and to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Turner, telling them that he has landed safely in England but that he is minus several meals, because . . . well because.

Lee F. Hastings is now rated as S 2-C, which means a bit more pay. Lee wrote his mother saying; "I got paid today, but only $7 and the married men just $5.00. Don't know the reason but it happened." Hastings says he does not get as much sleep as he did at home, but his weight is climbing.

The Sophomore class met on Tuesday, Sept. 21. The purpose of the meeting was to elect sponsors and officers. The sponsors were Mrs. Farrow and Mr. Wilson. Officers were: Jerry Waggoner, president; Brad Rowland, vice-president; Elaine Jones, secretary; Peggy Polk, reporter.

The Junior class held its first meeting Tuesday, 21st. We met to organize our class for the year. Our new officers are the following: Ray Coles, president; Ola Jean McInroe, vice-president; Thelma Carlton, secretary; Gamile Hassen, reporter.

Monday night Tate May and several of his banking force went to Tuxedo to help them in a bond rally. Tate reports that about thirty persons were present and they bought $3,1000 worth of bonds.

10 YEARS AGO

(September 25, 1958)

Merchants are being urged this week by officials of the Hamlin High School Ex-Students association, sponsors of the forthcoming fourth annual HHS homecoming, to decorate their store windows with old pictures of school days of yesterday as an added feature of the gathering of former students of the school.

Display of old pictures last year added such interest to scores of homecoming attendants and others that a repeat performance of the pictorial history is being urged.

Scheduled for Friday and Saturday, October 3 and 4, the gathering will open Friday afternoon with registrations of out-of-town attendants. A football game that evening will pit the Winters Blizzards against the Hamlin Pied Pipers. Between halves at the game the 1958 Homecoming Queen will be crowned.

After the game, a coffee will be held at the high school cafeteria.

Saturday morning class meetings and a general program are scheduled in the high school auditorium.

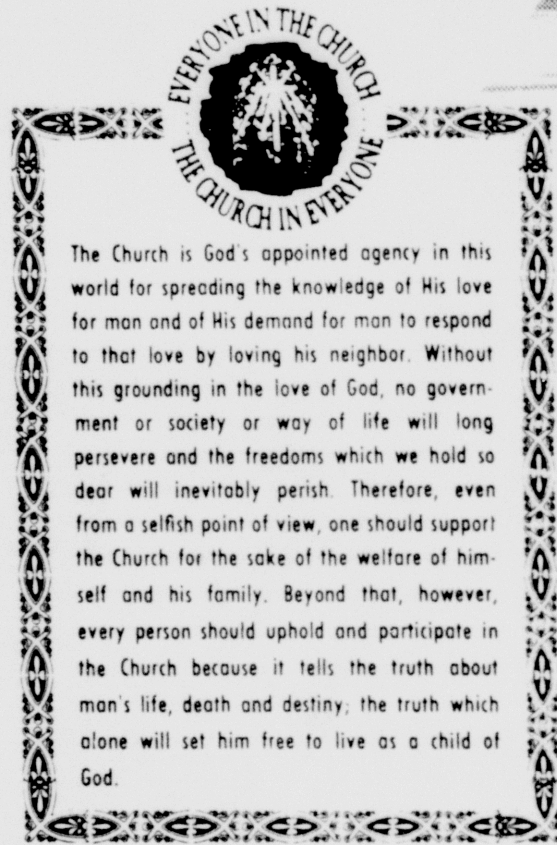

Hamlin Church of the Nazarene is scheduling special worship services this week in commemoration of the fiftieth anniversary of the congregation.

As a sideline of the anniversary services, members of the church and others are invited to bring and display pictures of the early day church groups, the old Nazarene College formerly located at Hamlin and other church pictures of early days that will be of interest to attendants.

Contracts for two highway jobs in the Hamlin area totaling nearly $850,000 were due to be awarded this week, according to officials of the Texas Highway Commission. Low bids were tabulated on the projects last Tuesday and Wednesday at

OUTMODED EQUIPMENT

This young man certainly won't get much real cleaning done with this broom. A modern street cleaning machine would do the job so much better. His straw broom makes us think of how we try to get along without God, without spiritual values, without church. Our life would be so much better if we would exchange this life for one that knows God and practices His precepts. Without church and God we have little or no spiritual equipment. Hearing God's word preached, being with his people, working in His church, helping others through the church all give us the spiritual equipment we need for meeting life. We invite you to attend this week and make a habit of coming to God's house.
